Custom Herbal Blend

Bill enjoys herbs. They speak to him in varying degrees of being appropriate for use. Some times an herb will grab his attention to let him know that something is needed. Watching Bill choose herbs from a catalog or in a field can be entertaining in itself as the herbs will talk to him from a distance as if saying, "pick me". It is this gift to listen to the energies of the plant that allows him to create for you a customized herbal blend specifically for you. Ask him about choosing ashwaganda root or calendula flowers.

Are you a blend of lavender flowers and peppermint leaves to make a relaxing and earthy tea? Perhaps a tincture combination of horsetail, cinnamon and goldenseal to assist in supporting you?

When you come and see Bill for a session for about 1/2 hour, he will dowse to find an appropriate blend for you, weather it is herbs for a tea or an herbal tincture blend. You will take home a bag of dried herbs for tea or 2 ounces of your customized herbal tincture blend with instructions.

Please note: Herbal interactions with prescription medications may vary from person to person. These reactions vary from wildly enhancing a prescription to negating the entire effect of a prescription medication. If you are taking a medication that an herbal remedy may interfere with, please contact your doctor and use investigative research of the possible side-effects of taking an herbal supplement with your prescription. When you arrive at your appointment, please provide me with your findings and we will remove that herb from our choice of herbs available to us. The research you perform would assist me in providing the best possible service for you. While I do have some materials available for research, I may not have the most current material available for herbal interactions with your prescription medication.
